

Hello my name is Jasper D Mitchell.

Now that I introduced myself I want to say keep net neutrality laws the way it is. The internet has grown and us as human beings (for the most part) along with it. If you go through with this, then the internet as we know it will change. Students won't be able to do online work assignments because looking up a ten-minute study guides takes 15 minutes or sending in last minute homework online at 11:59PM takes three or four minutes to do. The elderly people who finally got a cell phone can't look up songs they heard in their youth because YouTube now cost money. Worried mom's and dad's won't be able to look up the symptoms of their sick child first because it takes too long and rush their child to the Emergency Room. Friends around the world will have a hard time seeing each other through skype because one of their internet speed is slow because they chose the "cheap" option. Working people who have to decide among the many bills they have to pay where they can skim the money necessary to have sub-par internet speed. These are only a few things that can happen that I just wanted to put out there. People might say that putting the internet in the hands of companies can increase the downloading speed but that will be because a lot of people won't have it and who's to say that the companies won't abuse it. It's like having a fox watch a chicken coop, it could turn out fine but I rather not chance it. Please do the right thing and keep the internet free keep the net neutrality laws.
